HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 15TH, 1894.

squeezed the "juice" as much as possible on the well-known Chinese system.Looking at the matter really from a self-interested point of view, there can be no doubt that the colony has gained much more than it has lost by the existing arrangement, even making allowance for the diminution in the opium revenue, and a reversion to the former system would be entirely disadvantageous. But while acknowledging the superiority of the Foreign Customs service over that of the Hoppo it is none the less necessary that the Colonial Government should insist on a strict respect being paid to British rights and that no invasion of the colonial waters should be permitted. In the Quarry Bay case the invasion was flagrant.The P. & O. Company are building seven large "passenger and cargo" steamers for their Indian and China trade. The following are the names of the vessels:—Sindia, Nubia, Malta, Sumatra, Berne, and Singapore.The Band of the 1st Shropshire Light Infantry will play the following programme in the Barber's Saloon to-night, commanding at 7.30 p.m.:—Pols.—"The Dragoon" . . . . . Faber.
Quadrille—"Echoes from the West" . . . . . Newson.
Schottische—"Go Deh" . . . . . Burt.
Mazurka—"Mazurka" . . . . . Burt.
Valzer—"Mazurka" . . . . . Ladd.
Lied—"Brise des Nuits" . . . . . Ladd.
Schottische—"Popcorn" . . . . . Jean Bonn.At the Magistrate yesterday a servant in the employ of Mr. J. W. Stewart, a servant to the Customs, was charged with having left for China a number of articles valued at $91 and $50 in money, the property of his master. On the 3rd October Mr. Stewart missed these things from a box which he had evidence of having been broken open, and at the same time his cook was not to be found, a substitute having taken his place. The delinquent, who admitted that he had boarded a junk in Chinese waters, they were shortly afterwards seized unexpectedly and unmercifully thrown overboard.
Gaining a Customs launch they gave chase, throwing aside all respect for territorial limits. Had their object merely been to keep the junk in so as to be able to point her out to the Colonial authorities with a view to bringing the crew to trial for the alleged assault, which is now under investigation at the Police Court, their action might possibly not have been found blame-worthy, but it seems that they pursued the man on shore, armed with rifles, and they subsequently towed the junk over into Chinese waters. Whatever excuse of resistance may be found for the officers individually on the ground of the great provocation they say they received, but which has not yet been found, it was a gross invasion of British territory for which full reparation must be made by the representatives of the Chinese Government. The Commissioner of Customs has, it is said, already offered an apology. That apology may be satisfactory in its terms, but it cannot be considered full and sufficient unless it is duly published both in English and Chinese, so that every one may know, especially the natives, that no infringement of British jurisdiction can be permitted.The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian mentions a report current in official circles as to Mr. Scott's return to China, the British Consul in Canton, and his return to his old work in the Burma Civil Service. Lord Rosebery, when at the Foreign Office, had the foresight and courage to set aside departmental traditions and, said Sir Montague Durand, "make war" upon the men concerned, who were made worse by an outcry of articles valued at $91 and $50 in money, the property of his master. On
and unmercifully thrown overboard.
to point her out to the Colonial authorities with a view to bringing the crew to
trial for the alleged assault, which is now
blame-worthy, but it seems that they pursued

at 1.30 p.m. yesterday.The P. & O. steamer Peru, with mails, &c., which arrived "hence" Oct. 29th for San Francisco, Nagasaki, Kobe, Inland Sea, and Yokohama, arrived at her destination on the 13th instant.The directors of the Hongkong and China
